By COLIN HURST

TORY leadership hopeful Penny Mordaunt was slammed by a senior MP when she pulled an X-rated stunt in the House of Commons.

The Navy reservist was challenged to perform the saucy shenanigans by seafaring pals but it led to Penny, 49, being accused of trivialising Parliament.

Train drivers to walk out in wage dispute

TRAIN drivers are "very close" to going on strike and could walk out within weeks, according to their union.

Drivers at eight rail companies have voted in favour of industrial action in a row over pay.

Mick Whelan, general secretary of Aslef, said that strikes could happen in the coming weeks if talks over wage rises stall.

"We don't do this lightly," he said.

"We see it as a sign of failure when we do have to do it."

Mr Whelan did not say when strikes might begin.

Unions must give 14 days' notice before any strike.

The announcement has led to fears of disruption to the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham, which is expected to attract about one million tourists between July 28 and August 8.

Over 400 migrants cross in single day

MORE than 400 migrants arrived in the UK on Monday after crossing the Channel.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD) said 442 people made the journey in 15 boats, at an average of around 29 per boat.

Among them were several young children, including one seen clutching a cuddly toy.

It is the highest daily total since 444 on June 14, and is the fifth time this year that the figure has topped 400.

Crossings continued yesterday, with large numbers of people arriving on the Kent coast.

ZAHAWI TRIBUTE TO TRAFFICKED MO

TRIBUTE: Zahawi

SIR Mo Farah says he is "really proud" of a new BBC documentary in which he has revealed he was brought into the UK illegally under the name of another child.

The four-time Olympic champ said The Real Mo Farah, let him "address and learn more" about his past and journey to Britain.

And Tory leadership hopeful Nadhim Zahawi, who himself came to Britain as a refugee, praised him.

Speaking in the documentary, Mo said "the truth is I'm not who you think I am," adding he needs to tell his real story "whatever the cost".

The father-of-four, 39, said: "Most people know me as Mo Farah but it's not my name, it's not the reality.

"The real story is I was born in Somaliland, north of Somalia, as Hussein Abdi Kahiin. Despite what I've said in the past, my parents never lived in the UK.

"When I was four my dad was killed in the civil war, you know as a family we were torn apart.

"I was separated from my mother, and I was brought into the UK illegally under the name of another child called Mohamed Farah."

It is understood the Home Office will not be taking any action against Sir Mo and he will not be deprived of his citizenship.

Chancellor Nadhim Zahawi praised Sir Mo as a "truly inspirational" role model.

The Tory leadership hopeful said: "I salute Mo Farah, to go through that trauma and to come through it and be such a great role model is truly inspirational – and exemplary."

Wales cut speed limit to 20mph

SPEED limits in built-up areas look set to be reduced from 30mph to 20mph in Wales from next year – a UK first that is controversial among some drivers.

Ministers say a 20mph speed limit will lower road collisions and traffic noise and encourage people to walk and cycle.

The slower limit has been divisive in areas where there have been trials with some motorists complaining of more congestion and journeys taking longer.

Many UK towns and cities have 20mph limits on residential roads but Wales is to become the first nation to impose it by default on all restricted roads.

Campaigners argue the chances of someone surviving being hit by a car at 20mph rather than 30mph is seven times higher.

"We know that 20mph zones reduce speed of traffic, reduce accidents – particularly accidents to children," Wales' First Minister Mark Drakeford said.

"We want to see that become the default position right across Wales."

Shop sales slide again

RETAILERS are seeing sales tumble at a rate "not seen since the depth of the pandemic" as shoppers rein in spending in the face of soaring inflation.

The latest monthly

BRC-KPMG retail sales monitor showed retail sales dropped by 1% in June – the third fall in a row as the cost of living takes its toll.

Even a boost from the Queen's Platinum Jubilee celebrations failed to offset the slowdown.

Sales dropped 1.3% year-on-year in the five weeks to July 2.

Helen Dickinson, of the British Retail Consortium, said: "Inflation continues to bite, and households cut back spending.

"White goods and homeware were hit very hard."

STARMER BID TO OUST BORIS

Key Commons vote TODAY

LABOUR is preparing to force a confidence vote on the Tory Government, challenging Conservative MPs to oust Boris Johnson as they hold a leadership contest.

Sir Keir Starmer's party has begun moves to try and oust Johnson by tabling a vote of no confidence in the outgoing PM.

The crunch vote is due today and even though it's clear Tory MPs want rid of Boris, it's highly unlikely they'll vote for Starmer's motion.

Resigned

Mr Johnson resigned as Conservative leader after a long line of scandals, but is still clinging on to office as caretaker Prime Minister

By JANE BROWNING
news@sundaysport.co.uk

until a replacement is found in a move that has divided Tory MPs.

Labour's bid forces Boris's colleagues to either back the Government or vote against it.

Tory MPs will be wary that opposing the Government could trigger a general election at a time they are selecting a new leader, and risk losing the large Commons majority Mr Johnson won in 2019.

Authority rapidly drained away from Mr Johnson last week as Cabinet ministers and junior colleagues resigned from Government and Tory MPs publicly called for his resignation.

The confidence vote, which would require a simple majority to pass, will put on record

VOTE OF NO CONFIDENCE:
Labour leader Keir Starmer and (below) PM Johnson

That the motion is in Labour's name makes Tory support even less likely.

Sir Keir Starmer previously threatened to bring the confidence vote to prevent "this nonsense about clinging on for a few months".

"He's inflicted lies, fraud and chaos in the country," the Labour leader said last week.

"If they don't get rid of him then Labour will step up, in the national interest, and bring a vote of no confidence, because we can't go on with this Prime Minister clinging on for months and months to come."

If the confidence vote did succeed, a general election could be called, or the Queen could invite someone else to form a Government on the basis they could win a vote of confidence in the House.

LINEKER PAID £1.35M BY BBC

GARY Lineker is the BBC's top earning on-air talent for the fifth consecutive year and the only name to earn over £1 million, new figures show.

The 61-year-old pundit was paid between £1,350,000 and £1,354,999 in 2021/2022 for work including Match Of The Day and Sports Personality Of The Year – a reduction of £10,000 on the previous year.

Lineker first topped the list for 2017/18 with a pay bracket of £1,750,000 to £1,759,999, and in 2020 it was announced he had taken a voluntary pay cut.

Zoe Ball remains the broadcaster's second highest paid talent, with a salary of £980,000 to £984,999, but figures show her salary falling for a second consecutive year.

Her salary has now slipped to below £1 million for 210 editions of The Zoe Ball Show on Radio 2.

Alan Shearer has seen a year-on-year increase of £60,000, bringing his salary to £450,000-£454,999, which puts him joint third with Steve Wright, whose salary this year reflects a £15,000 decrease.

The only new addition to the top 10 is Greg James, whose salary has increased by £80,000.

HANDS OFF MY TINY TITS!

THAT DRESS:
Flo (right)

flesh on screen

WEARING a pink frock that clearly showed off her delicious teat ends, movie beauty Florence Pugh was the toast of the Valentino Haute Couture fashion show in Rome.

But the 26-year-old was forced to endure snivelling attacks from seedy keyboard warriors who made cruel comments about her delightful bod.

Fiery Flo REFUSED to take the snipes lying down, though.

After noticing the amount of comments from "vulgar" men pointing out her "flaws" and "tiny tits" across social media, the Black Widow star defended her dress – hitting out at those who chose to "publicly destroy a woman's body".

She posted on Instagram: "What's been interesting to watch and witness is just how easy it is for men to totally destroy a woman's body, publicly, proudly, for everyone to see."

"So many of you wanted to aggressively let me know how disappointed you were by my 'tiny tits', or how I should be embarrassed by being so 'flat chested'."

Scared

"I've lived in my body for a long time. I'm fully aware of my breast size and am not scared of it."

The British actress started her post by telling fans she knew the dress would provoke a reaction, but she was "excited" to wear the sheer gown.

She wrote alongside a slideshow of snaps: "Listen, I knew when I wore that incredible Valentino dress that there was no way there wouldn't be a commentary on it."

"Whether it be negative or positive, we all knew what we were doing."

By IAN ST RETFORD
news@sundaysport.co.uk

I was excited to wear it, not a wink of me was nervous. I wasn't before, during or even now after."

The screen star went on to say she was perplexed as to why people were "so loudly upset by the size of my boobs and body".

Florence added: "What's more concerning is, why are you so scared of breasts? Small? Large? Left? Right? Only one? Maybe none?"

"It makes me wonder what happened to you to be so content on being so loudly upset by the size of my boobs and body?"

The actress declared she was "very grateful to grow up in a household with very strong, powerful, curvy women" and said she will continue to "be loud about being comfortable".

SEAGULLS 'FLY OFF' WITH DOGS

OWNERS of small dogs have been warned their pets could be carried away by SEAGULLS!

The RSPCA has issued advice on how small dog owners can keep their pets safe as the birds try to protect their offspring from "predators".

While seagull chicks are growing, throughout July, the mother seagulls become very protective, noisy and aggressive and try to fend off any incoming "threats" to their chicks.

An RSPCA spokeswoman said: "We advise pet-owners to put their dog on a lead and to avoid disturbing the birds by keeping their distance from any gull nests, or chicks seen on the ground."

Suspect tried to flee cops on a lawnmower

A WANTED man who gave cops the slip in January by diving into a swamp was finally busted last week after trying to flee officers on a lawnmower.

Cops in Okaloosa County, Florida, spotted Dusty Mobley, 40, behind the wheel of a John Deere mower and shouted at him to hit the ground.

The law-breaking landscaper had several outstanding warrants and escaped a prior arrest attempt by jumping off a stolen boat into a swamp.

Mobley floored the lawnmower and tried to get away from cops who chased on foot.

They quickly caught up and zapped him with a Taser.

Officials said they found a revolver, methamphetamine and a handcuff key on him.

He is facing charges of theft, resisting an officer, drug raps and possession of a concealed weapon.

NOW, just before we start, we are legally obliged to make one thing VERY clear...

Peeking at your sunbathing neighbour, while furiously ripping the end off your knob and unleashing a jet of sticky white love piss over the fence is NOT ACCEPTABLE.

It almost certainly constitutes a breach of the peace and could result in a spell on The Register.

That said, there is not a court in the land that can stop you standing at your own window and if a sunbathing neighbour just happens to be in your line of sight...

There is no doubt that British summers are the best summers in the world, especially after Brexit.

So today, we celebrate all those lovely ladies who are peeling off in their back gardens to get a nice, even tan and to give onlookers a little thrill.

But – and we cannot stress this often enough – NO MASTURBATING, lads!

Mourners see perv jacking off at funeral

A PERVERT has been nicked for furiously masturbating while watching a FUNERAL!

The following day, Daniel Ray Simpson, 28, pulled a similar stunt at a post office.

The first alleged incident happened during an unnamed person's send-off at the Brooksville Cemetery in Florida.

A mourner spotted Simpson watching her.

The sheriff's department said: "The victim advised that she observed a male nearby who was only partially dressed."

"The victim observed the male to have his pants down to his ankles and to be fondling himself, as he watched the victim."

The man put on his clothes and fled after she saw him.

The next day, a similar incident allegedly took place at a post office two miles away.

The police added: "The victim observed the male to have his pants unzipped and to be fondling himself."

"The victim quickly left the area and contacted law enforcement."

A MAN has dodged jail for furiously masturbating at a supermarket.

Alexander Clarke was found guilty of committing the act which was a breach of a sexual risk order he was made subject to back in 2019.

He committed the lewd act at the Aldi store in Boscombe, Dorset.

Clarke, 58, of Richmond Park Close, Bournemouth, received a 12-month jail sentence, suspended for two years, at Bournemouth Crown Court.

Recorder Paul Garlick QC said: "Your conduct caused real distress to an opposite member of the sex."

The victim was alone at the checkout when she became aware of the defendant.

She noticed that he was performing the sex act on himself.

HOPEFUL: Penny in action in Commons (left) and with Boris

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

TORY leadership hopeful Penny Mordaunt slipped six COCKS into a Commons speech as part of a dare with Royal Navy pals.

She revealed she delivered a speech on poultry welfare to Parliament for the sole purpose of saying "cock" a few times after Navy colleagues presented her with a puerile forfeit for a "misdemeanour" during training.

The Conservative MP for Portsmouth North, delivered a commons speech laced with innuendo, in which she used the word "cock" six times and "lay" or "laid" five times during the course of the four-minute speech, in which she also had to utter the names of several Navy officers.

Ms Mordaunt admitted her guilt to a roomful of hacks as she picked up the award for speech of the year at The Spectator magazine's Parliamentarian of the Year Awards in 2014.

Fraud

The MP said she felt "a bit of a fraud" for receiving the award because, "let's face it, the reason I won this award is not because of the hours I put in or the carefully crafted speech, it's all because I referred to genitalia during the course of it," she said.

"When I was at Dartmouth doing my reservist training some of my marine training officers thought it would be a good idea to try and break the ladylike persona I maintained throughout the whole of my course by getting me to yell particular rude words during the most gruelling part of our training, and I'm happy to say that they failed in that."

"But during our mess dinner at the end of the course I was fined for a misdemeanour, and the fine was to say a particular word, the abbreviation of cockerel, several times during a speech in the House of Commons and mention all of the officer's names present."

Ms Mordaunt was accused at the time by Labour MP Kate Hoey of trivialising Parliament, who raged: "She should realise the House of Commons is not a TV reality show!"

Universal Credit 'causes crime'

A LANDMARK reform to the UK's benefits system has led to a rise in home repossession, burglaries and vehicle crimes, costing us almost half a billion pounds, research suggests.

The introduction of Universal Credit "has imposed large societal costs" through a rise in evictions and crime in England and Wales, according to findings from the University of Sussex Business School.

Researchers estimate the rolling out of the benefit led to a 4% rise in repossession orders from the social housing sector across local areas where Universal Credit came in – around 6,000 orders in total.

And they say it has resulted in a 2.5% increase on average in economically-motivated crime.

They estimate this includes more than 35,000 burglaries and 25,000 vehicle crimes at a cost of more than £465million.

The Government said there is "no evidence" that Universal Credit causes crime.

'Drunk' news presenter is taken off air

A NEWSREADER has been suspended after presenting a bulletin, apparently pissed-up.

Heather Kovar (above), an anchor for CBS6 based in Albany, New York, shocked viewers when she slurred her words and appeared dishevelled during an evening broadcast.

The presenter was jittery, wide-eyed and incoherent during her segments.

At one point while trying to pivot between segments, Kovar said: "And so, moving on tonight, is we have to tell you also, you know, like other news that's happening in the area, and across the area, in the nation."

She also began having trouble while discussing an explosion at a natural-gas plant.

She quickly changed subjects during the report, too, saying bizarrely: "Well, hello! Good afternoon!"

She was ultimately cut off from speaking mid-sentence.

The station said she was suspended pending further investigation.

Odds of getting KILLED by space junk rocketing

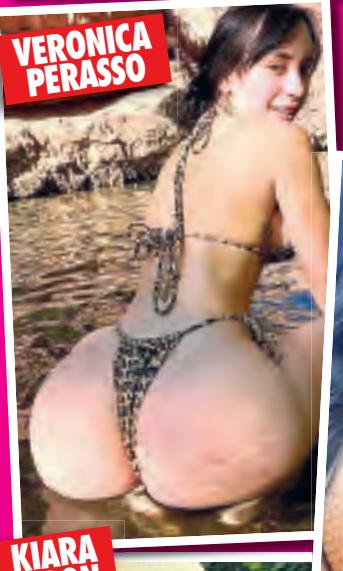

LOOK OUT!
The odds of being hit by a falling SPACE ROCKET have risen astronomically, boffins have warned.

The billionaire space race, commercial spaceflight and the use of satellite technology are upping the odds of being crushed by a falling spaceship, says a study in Nature Astronomy.

Scientists estimated a nearly 10% risk that a free-falling rocket will kill someone on the ground during the next decade.

The risk increases south of the Equator, who are likely to see a greater proportion of space junk land due to the Earth's rotation.

"It's a statistically low risk, but not negligible, and it's increasing – and it's totally avoidable," lead study author Michael Byers, os University of British Columbia, said.

Gun-hoarding family lived in museum!

A FAMILY secretly living inside a kids' MUSEUM had a stockpile of deadly weapons, police say.

The arsenal of weapons was found once the odd living arrangement came to light inside the Children's Museum of Northern Nevada, with authorities finding an AK-47, three handguns and an AR-style pistol.

It's unclear how long the family lived there, but it came to an end after the couple's two-year-old child walked outside the museum unsupervised, the Carson City Sheriff's Office said.

While this isn't the first time police spoke with 41-year-old Wilbert Calhoun (above) about an unsupervised kid, this time the tot's older sis told cops she lived in the museum.

Authorities and a museum board member found sleeping bags, mattresses, clothes and food in an area off limits to visitors.

Calhoun, who was a museum janitor, is charged with child neglect and endangerment.

Woman sets park sunbather on fire

A MADWOMAN lobbed a cup of petrol on a man and set him ablaze as he sunbathed in a park.

Patricia Castillo, 48, doused her victim with fuel and as he lay on the grass in a park in Sanger near Fresno, California.

The Sanger Police Department said in a statement: "A video shows Castillo approach the victim and throw a liquid from a cup onto him and she and the victim appear to argue before Castillo sparks a lighter and sets him on fire."

The victim was rushed to a local hospital with non-life-threatening injuries, police added.

Castillo is charged with attempted murder, arson and conspiracy.

Police said a second person, Leonard Hawkins, was also arrested for allegedly providing the flammable liquid to her.

It's unclear if Castillo and the victim knew each other, or what the motive was.

AN OnlyFans star was in turmoil after her car was broken into and thieves took her SEX TOYS!

Lucy Banks, from Perth in Western Australia, said that "nothing too valuable" was taken, but some criminal is "going to be shocked" to find her belongings and that she's now worried she "may have a stalker".

The mum-of-two, who is one of Australia's most popular adult content creators, said: "There's a criminal around who is going to be very shocked when he opens a bag full of massive dildos, OnlyFans gym tights and Lucy Banks-branded car air fresheners."

Lube

The X-rated star said that the invasion of privacy and the inconvenience of "replacing so much stuff" – including her pink 10-inch vibrator, bikinis, strawberry body paint and her cherry-banana flavoured lube – isn't ideal, but she has found the funny side.

She added: "I actually had the police come out last night because I was convinced there was someone on my roof.

"The car break-in has made me so paranoid. I was starting to think I was being stalked and someone was after me, but I'm sure it was just a coincidence."

The star jokingly added that anyone who sees a suspicious person wearing a green velvet bodycon dress, burgundy lace lingerie set, white bikini or carrying a 10-inch pink dildo should call the police immediately.

In 2019, Lucy quit her job in the banking industry and signed up to OnlyFans.

"For me, it's about freedom – having the time to be there for my family and being able to buy a home, necessities and fun stuff for my kids without worrying about how much money is in the bank."

Missing man died in plastic shredder

A MAN missing since May fell into a factory shredder and was killed by the heavy-duty machinery at the recycling plant where he worked.

Fractions of human remains found near the plastic shredder were matched to Duncan Gordon, 20, of Greer, South Carolina, who was last seen alive feeding plastic into the machine during his night shift on May 5.

Investigators found small pieces of human fat and bone on and under a conveyor belt that feeds the shredded plastic to another machine, Spartanburg County Coroner Rusty Clevenger said in a statement.

The workplace death is now being investigated.

CARJACKER TOOK MUM'S TWO KIDS

A WOMAN who stole a mum's car with her two kids still inside it was nicked after a police chase.

Cops in Hobbs, New Mexico, said the female car owner parked her vehicle in front of a shop, and when she returned, an unknown woman pushed her and got into the motor, driving off.

Traffic camera video shows the mum trying to stop the carjacking by getting on the bonnet of the car.

Inside the vehicle were the distraught woman's six-year-old daughter and 11-month-old son.

When officers later found the car, they discovered the suspect left the six-year-old at a junction prior to an attempt to flee police.

Regina Castillo (left), then abandoned the car and began to run from the officers.

She was arrested after being found hiding behind a pickup truck in a residential area.

Castillo faces several charges including carjacking and failure to appear for traffic violations.

CALL the Midwife star Jenny Agutter has expressed her "regret" about doing a nude scene as a teenager.

The actor (above), now 69, had just turned 16 when she started filming the 1971 film Walkabout, which is set in the Australian Outback.

Speaking about the experience, she said: "I was 16, and a young 16. But director Nic Roeg showed me pics and said, 'We want to create something, a Garden of Eden.' For him, it was a really important moment.

"The centre of the film has to be innocent. So I don't regret that."

"Unfortunately, what has happened is the internet and social media taking it out and putting it wherever."

"Sorry to the people who are perverted and wish to do that, but I am not a part of that."

"It's that, that I regret – not being nude in the film."

IT'S NATIONAL NUDE DAY, FOLKS...

GRIN AND BARE IT!

MIDWEEK Sport
5-PAGE SPECIAL

By WENDY THOMAS news@sundaysport.co.uk

TOMORROW you can bare all, folks, as July 14 is National Nude Day!

It's the day when – as its name suggests – people remove all articles of clothing.

Many perceive this as a perverted notion, especially in public spaces like parks, but the day celebrates freedom and the aesthetics of the human body.

The holiday started in New Zealand, and from there it has spread to other Western countries.

Streak

National Nude Day came into being when ex-rugby star Marc Ellis dared viewers of his telly show to streak in front of New Zealand's former prime minister, Helen Clark, some time at the beginning of the 21st century.

The holiday is now celebrated in over 30 countries worldwide.

So to celebrate this most Midweek Sport of holidays, here are FIVE pages of stunnas with not a stitch on...

A SHAN THE HEA

FOR some inmates, prison is a chance for redemption – to right the wrongs of past actions and seek forgiveness.

But not for Enoch Hall.

He sits on Death Row for the brutal sex attack and murder of female corrections officer Donna Fitzgerald, whom he lured with cold-blooded precision to her demise...

MONSTERS OF DEATH ROW

THE WORLD'S MOST EVIL MURDERERS AND THE HORRIFIC CRIMES THAT SAW THEM SENTENCED TO EXECUTION...

DONNA Fitzgerald, 50, was never supposed to be anywhere near Enoch Hall on that fateful June night in 2008.

A cruel twist of fate saw her swap shifts with a colleague. But it was that act of generosity that ultimately cost her life.

At the time, prisoners at Florida's Tomoka Correctional Institution were part of a rehabilitation programme called PRIDE, Prison Rehabilitative Industries and Diversified Enterprises, where they were put to work refurbishing vehicles.

In this case, the inmates were

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

busy finishing two fire engines, welding metal and constructing parts.

On June 28, 2008, security officer Michael Filbert told Donna he had a family emergency and asked if she would be so kind as to cover his shift later that evening.

Donna happily agreed. Being nice was just her nature.

Institutional policy required that the prison and PRIDE needed to have at least two employees in attendance at any time inmates were working.

Usually, this wasn't an issue in the day, but during extended night shifts, the organisers often let the rule slide.

The night Donna died was one of these nights. Because of a lax attitude to the safety policy, Donna was left on her own with 13 prisoners.

One of those was Enoch Hall, a violent sex offender serving two life sentences for kidnap and rape.

At the end of the shift, Donna counted the lags as they clocked off and began the process of returning them to their cells.

It was then that she realised one of them was missing – Hall.

Donna bravely said she'd go and look for him. She finally located him in a welding shed next to the plant.

Razor-sharp

But when she tried to grab him by the arm, he lashed out at her with a homemade prison shank – a shard of machined steel with a razor-sharp edge.

Donna was stabbed 22 times and throttled to death.

As Hall himself later confessed: "I freaked out. I snapped. I killed her. I don't know why."

Donna's lifeless body was found slumped over a cart in a storage room in the shed area. Her trousers and underwear were rolled down to her ankles.

And, while there was no evidence Donna had been raped, a judge surmised that Hall was about to commit that deed as she lay dying, but he was interrupted by prison officers who went in search of their colleague.

An investigation into the PRIDE programme found that on the night Donna was murdered, eight of the 13 inmates she was looking after were serving life terms.

Most of them had been convicted of serious crimes including murder, rape and sexual assault.

Her slaying was an accident just waiting to happen.

On October 23, 2009, Hall was convicted of premeditated murder.

He was already serving two life sentences. What difference would one more make to his life?

Which is why, in the eyes of Hall's family, a jury made the correct decision in handing Hall a sentence of death, sending a message to any other inmates who still harbour murderous intentions.

Donald Shaure, called for Hall to be executed as quickly as possible.

At the time of the sentencing, he said: "Immediate death. Immediate."

"If it could be at noon today, I'd be thrilled. I'd be ecstatic."

Sadly for Donald, his wishes haven't been granted. Hall, now 51, has had appeals against his death penalty turned down but looks no nearer to receiving a lethal injection.

So what happened to Hall to turn him into such a cold-blooded killer?

His dad James Hall

testified that his son hadn't been born bad. He'd been a good brother to his two younger siblings and had been relatively successful in high school, earning various medals for athletics.

But following a minor dispute with the mother of his girlfriend, he'd been tossed into jail by the woman's boyfriend, who just happened to be a cop.

And while in jail, Hall says he was raped.

Upon his release, he changed overnight.

He started living in a shelter in the woods and began showing outward signs of very dangerous aggression.

He was sentenced to life in Escambia County

in 1993 for kidnapping, beating and raping a

66-year-old woman.

He'd been productively employed in prison since that initial incarceration, keeping his nose clean until 2008, when he unleashed hell.

Court documents reveal exactly what happened.

They state: "Hall was an inmate who worked as a welder in the PRIDE compound, where inmates refurbished vehicles.

"Sergeant Suzanne Webster was working as the control room supervisor, where she was responsible for getting a count from all areas of the prison as to the number of inmates in each place.

"When Webster hadn't heard from Donna Fitzgerald in the PRIDE compound, she radioed Officer Chad Weber, who went to the PRIDE facility with Sgt Bruce MacNeil to search.

Freaked

"When Weber saw Enoch Hall run through an open door at the other end of one of the PRIDE buildings, he and MacNeil pursued him.

"Weber caught up to Hall, who repeatedly stated, 'I freaked out. I snapped. I killed her.'

"With the anguished cries of 'Officer down! Officer down!' from her colleagues, Donna's bleeding body was quickly discovered.

KICK TO ART

FATED: Donna was only working the night she was murdered to help out a colleague

Legal files reveal: "Fitzgerald's body was found face down on top of a cart in the paint room.

The upper part of her body was wrapped in grey wool blankets. The bottom half came over the back of the cart, her pants and underwear pulled down to her knees.

"Hall's bloody T-shirt was inside a bucket of water that was on the floor next to Fitzgerald's legs, while a broom found nearby had Fitzgerald's blood on it.

"Blood was also found on the walls of the welding shed and on a cap. Hall's clothes, including his underwear, tested positive for Fitzgerald's blood.

"A sexual assault analysis was performed on Fitzgerald's body. Jillian White, a crime lab analyst, testified that there was no evidence of semen on the body."

The jury also heard how those who worked in the PRIDE facility had made a number of "shanks", deadly homemade jail weapons.

The shanks that came from PRIDE "differed from the usual ones made by inmates in that they had a machined edge made by a grinder".

The State played the three confessions Hall made on the night of the murder.

He claimed he had been attempting to find a stash of illicit pain-killing medication when Donna had gone looking for him.

The legal documents state that: "Officer Fitzgerald came in and laughed and called Hall, by his nickname, saying, 'Possum, come on, get out of there'.

"Hall told her to get out. Fitzgerald grabbed Hall's arm and he 'freaked out' and began to stab her with a sharp piece of metal that he found on the floor of the frenzied assault.

Punches

He testified: "Her body bore evidence of blunt force injuries, mostly on her face, consistent with those caused by punches from a hand.

"Fitzgerald's hands that he didn't want to have sex with her, he just wanted to get high."

Dr Predrag Bulic, the county associate medical examiner, detailed the harrowing injuries Donna sustained in the frenzied assault.

and arms had sustained defensive wounds caused by a sharp instrument consistent with a knife. There were 15 other stab wounds, including on her stomach, back and chest.

"A gold chain necklace on Fitzgerald's body had been pulled tightly around her mouth and neck from behind in a manner so as to exert sufficient force to leave a postmortem mark consistent with ligature."

It's likely Donna was gasping for breath as the metal shank pierced her lungs, causing them to fill with blood.

The wound that punctured her heart led to her death, but it would have taken five agonising minutes for her life to end.

After Hall was moved to Death Row, assistant state attorney R.J. Larizza said: "Enoch Hall and people like him are the reason why we have the death penalty in the first case.

"In this instance, the death penalty was the only remedy."

CONVICTED: Hall was already serving two life sentences when he murdered Donna Fitzgerald

PEOPLE SMUGGLER CUT OFF MAN'S HEAD

CHARGED: Rivera

Fiend faces 99 years

A MAN nicked for people-smuggling illegal immigrants coughed to a six-year-old murder case in which the victim was dismembered and set alight.

Jorge Alberto Rivera has been indicted on a murder charge in connection with the 2016 death of a Houston, Texas, man who was found headless and handless, with his body burned beyond recognition.

Cops in Kinney County arrested Rivera in April when officers found six undocumented immigrants in his vehicle.

He was charged in a human smuggling case, but admitted while in custody he was involved in the death of Javier Thomas Soto, 43, an affidavit supporting his arrest stated.

Soto was reported missing from the Houston area and was last seen on August 20, 2016.

Flames

The next day, his body was found in San Antonio, engulfed in flames inside a rubbish bin.

He'd been decapitated and his hands severed.

At the time, San Antonio police released a photograph of a tattoo of Soto's first name on his upper right arm, along with surveillance footage captured from the area that showed someone dumping Soto's body in the bin.

After his identification by the Bexar County Medical Examiner's Office, they ruled his cause and manner of death as "homicidal violence" including sharp-force injury.

But the case then went cold for six years.

According to the affidavit once in custody, Rivera, 39, described details of Soto's death – how he was killed and the condition of his body – to investigators, and also admitted he was the man seen in the surveillance video.

Motive

The document stated, without detailing it, that Rivera revealed a motive behind the killing.

Rivera's case is being heard in the 226th District Court.

If convicted of murder, he faces five to 99 years, or life in prison.

HOT 'N' HO

GORGEOUS Ella McPartland was glued to the telly last week as the Boris drama unfolded.

The 32D Liverpool lovely said: "I normally have no interest in politics but last week it was like Game of Thrones or something."

"All that double-dealing and backstabbing."

"I can only think that politicians are a bit of a rum lot at the end of the day."

"I imagine it will all go back to being a bit boring now."

BUTTER!

PREPARE for the worst summer of your lives.

Not the weather, which seems to be smiling nicely upon us for once. And not COVID, either, which despite what the usual suspects try to shriek at us, is pretty much on the general retreat.

No, I'm talking about the telly. More specifically, the TV news.

For this we have to thank (not) Boris Johnson for finally giving in and quitting...

Great! Like we haven't all been through enough already over the last couple of years, eh?

Why not finish it off with a blisteringly dull season-long game of Tory infighting whack-a-mole?

But while loads of people you have never heard of battle it out to be your next Prime Minister, you can be certain of only one thing.

Who YOU might prefer as PM, what issues concern YOU, which aspects of everything from Ukraine to Brexit to the cost of living YOU consider doing well or badly, are the very LAST of their considerations.

Because YOU do not count.

Arsed

THEY really aren't arsed. They're far too concerned about themselves.

Electioneering, whether to become an MP or PM, is when politicians completely lose their shit.

They'll say pretty much anything to anyone if they think it gains them a vote.

I say "anyone" – what I really mean is to other politicians, as it is only they that can push leadership candidates towards the front of the queue.

WE little people don't get a voice, though.

There will be no election WE can take part in, unless you're one of the 100 or 200 thousand Tory Party members who get a chance to decide between the final, whittled down two.

The rest of us?

The tens of millions upon millions upon yet more millions of us?

With those numbers creeping steadily up every single day on the country's south coast?

Not a peep.

Not a whisper.

We just don't matter.

This is a game for the politicians to play only and for the telly to bore us to death with.

We already know what'll happen.

A steady drip of unexcitable dross from over-excited BBC, Sky News and Channel 4 hacks desperate to call anyone standing to be Conservative leader a demon simply for not being a devotee of their beloved Lenin or Marx.

Someone else you've never heard of with green hair appearing on Question Time branding everyone who doesn't worship the memory of Stalin as "racist".

Lots and lots and lots of cost of living "crisis", climate "crisis", energy "crisis", food "crisis", gender identity "crisis".

Is there even anything left for them to complain about now?

Spreadable

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, you and me are wondering how on earth spreadable butter, of all things, is suddenly so fking expensive.

Or why it costs what used to be the price of an entire tank of petrol just to move from petrol pump one to petrol pump two.

And when your colossal gas and electricity bills come in, watch them all cough and mutter things like "supply chain" and "global markets" and "Ukraine".

And then ask you to vote for them, when they eventually allow you the chance.

We're reaching the stage where it feels the entire country just wants to say "no".

Enough politics, for fk's sake.

Give us a bloody break!

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I want to be gangbanged at a sex club'

...WITH LUCY LY,
34, FROM
NEWCASTLE

I HAVE a fantasy about being watched while having sex.

A few years ago I was staying in a cottage in Wales and having a little DIY time in bed... then I noticed a group of ramblers go past my window!

But instead of closing the curtains, I carried on touching myself and I went even further... caressing the boobs and thrusting my vibrator in deeper.

I was so turned on in that moment knowing strangers we're getting an eye full.

I've struggled with shyness when I was younger so exhibitionism is new to me.

I've discovered how freeing it is to be wild and uninhibited.

I think about being a porn star and having lots of people on the set standing around and watching me, as well as thousands of viewers online all over the world being turned on by me.

In one scenario in my head, I'm in a sex club and the group surrounding me and watching me and my lover eventually participate too.

I'm kind of a grand sexual goddess presiding over my subjects!

Girl, 16, held for livestream gun tragedy

A TEENAGE girl has been arrested after her friend was fatally shot while the pair showed off their firearms on a livestream, cops say.

The 16-year-old, who has not been identified, had been holding two handguns as her pal, Princess Omobogie, 18 (above), filmed her for a livestream broadcast at an apartment block in Garland, Texas.

During the live social media broadcast, one of the guns went off and struck Princess.

She was taken in a critical condition to a local hospital, where she died two days later.

After her death, her 16-year-old friend was taken into custody and charged with manslaughter.

She is currently being held at the Dallas County Juvenile Detention Centre.

Police have declined to release her name since she is a minor.

However, authorities have obtained a copy of the livestream and will be using it in their ongoing investigation.

Teen gang kill OAP with cone

A GROUP of teenagers were caught on camera laughing and taking videos as they beat an elderly man to death with a TRAFFIC CONE.

James Lambert, 72, was viciously attacked by a group of seven teens in Philadelphia.

Disturbing video of the incident, released by police, shows Mr Lambert trying to walk away from the group as they follow him across the street before one of the male assailants strikes him from behind with a cone.

The impact knocks Mr Lambert to the ground, and while he's down, a girl picks up the same cone and chuck it at him as another one in the group records the attack on his mobile phone.

Mr Lambert was later taken to a local hospital where he died the following day from his injuries, police said.

The Philadelphia Police Department is offering a £20,000 reward to find the teen attackers.

TEACHER PORN STAR BONKED EX-PUPIL ON CAMERA

A MIDDLE-aged mum who quit her teaching and marketing jobs for PORN has revealed she hooked up with a former pupil for an X-rated scene.

The Yank, who is known as Mrs Robinson online, has spoken in the past about leaving her nine-to-five jobs to make and sell raunchy content.

The 52-year-old has enjoyed the life of an adult star so much that her daughter Amber Blake quickly followed, trading singing on cruise ships for an OnlyFans career.

Speaking on the Holly Randall Unfiltered podcast, Mrs Robinson revealed her children were relaxed about her X-rated work.

Kudos

And they even get kudos from the fact she slept with a former pupil who also became a porn star in one early scene.

She said: "I think they were expecting something different, and once they realised, 'Oh it's still just her, now they're like, 'Hey cool I saw your TikTok'."

Johnny Sins is one of the porn industry's most well-known male performers.

Mrs Robinson explained that once she realised the pair had a mutual connection, she hoped to utilise him to kick-start her career in the industry.

She added: "Right when I started out I knew that I needed to find larger creators to shout me out. I knew I wouldn't get my name out, and I started looking for people, and when I saw Johnny Sins, I sent a message on Shoutout Express like, 'Hey want to shout me out?' and we just laughed."

"He shouted me out and was like, 'Oh my God, my old high school teacher, here she is and here I am, maybe we should collab?'"

"So we did shoot and it was a huge success. It was just wild – everyone loved it, I loved it, it was just cool."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Tess,

I'VE been dating my girlfriend for a few months, but I fancy her best mate like mad and it's driving me nuts.

I think she feels the same way as me, because when my girlfriend's not looking she flashes her boobs and winks at me.

She's even been known to give my dick a sly stroke through my trousers, giving me a massive and embarrassing boner.

The other day she went even further when she came round for a few drinks in the garden.

She deliberately parted her thighs and flashed me her bare, shaved minge.

But I'm too scared to do anything about it at the moment, even though I'd love to shag her brains out.

Should I give her one?

TP, Cumbria

Tess says...

GIVE her a quick one and get it out of your system.

Dear Tess,

EVER since I can remember, the thought of rubber against my skin has me tingling in the nether regions.

It began when I was a kid, when I found a swimming cap that had been left in the changing room at my local pool.

I loved the feel of it, so I took it home with me. Over the years I have put together a big collection of them and I rub myself off on them all the time.

But now my obsession with rubber has landed me in trouble. I told a girlfriend, who freaked out and whipped me in the face with a floral number I was trying to get her to wear when I shagged her.

Now I'm all confused. Am I a twisted pervert or what?

DM, Somerset

Tess says...

NO. But try a fetish website for friends.

No holes barred for my sex beast missus

Dear Tess,

I'VE been with my missus for 14 years and, as you can imagine, the sex was getting pretty boring.

But then suddenly three months ago she turned into a right little raver.

She now likes doing it in all kinds of positions and all kinds of places.

And she even asked me to shag her up the bum, which has always been an absolute no-no up until now.

Well, I was totally up for it and I shagged her doggy-style first before I started teasing her arsehole with my cock.

But as I was about to plunge my manhood up her butt, she suddenly told me to stop and said that she wanted me to use a dildo on her.

I was a bit put out as I didn't happen to have a vibro to hand and I was amazed when she reached out to the bedside drawer and pulled out a dong about 10 inches long.

She oiled it and told me to stick it up her pussy as I shagged her arse.

But I'm gobsmacked at the change that's come over her.

Do you think we should get counselling?

DA, Lincolnshire

Tess says...

ARE you serious? Get stuck in and enjoy it.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week TESS O'REILLY has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Older boss takes me to shag pad for romps

Dear Tess,

I'M 22, attractive with long blonde hair and a great body.

But I find fellas my own age are very immature and they have no staying power in the bedroom.

I recently got a new job at an insurance company. My boss is 42 and a real hunk for an older man.

Then I caught my fella shagging a so-called friend of mine and was a bit upset at work the next day.

My gaffer asked me into his office and asked me what was wrong.

I explained my situation and then he put his arm around my waist and kissed me tenderly.

Licking

I was getting really wet and very hot, so I blurted out how much I fancied him.

He said when we'd finished work that day he could take me back to a "shag" flat he has in town, if I was up for it.

I was well up for it – and thought it would be great to get my own back on my cheating ex and that slag of his!

So we arranged to meet later, round the corner from work, where he picked me up in his flashy BMW car and whisked me off to his passion pad.

As soon as we got through the door, he dropped to his knees and started licking my fanny.

I then begged him to take me from behind – I was so wet for him I could hardly contain myself!

He was huge and screwed me senseless for ages until he finally shot his load all over my bum.

I then sucked him back to hardness and sat on it with my back to him and rode him with all the strength I had.

He's fed me every day since and our love-making is amazing.

Now he says he's divorcing his wife. He wants me to move into his flat with him and stop working at the office, but I want to keep my job.

Any advice?

JL, Tyneside

Tess says...

TELL him you want to be independent.

Dear Tess,

MY missus insists that I only f her up the arse, which I know is most fellas' dream come true. But for me it's getting a little boring.

We start off our love-making with her giving me a slow and gentle blowjob, before she hops up on to all fours and sticks her gorgeous bum in the air.

But whenever I try to pot the pink, she says vaginal sex doesn't give her any pleasure – so I have to slip it up the brown.

What should I do?

MS, Wiltshire

Tess says...

STOP moaning.

This nympho wants gr-eight gang bang

Dear Tess,

I THINK I have become addicted to sex. I'm a blonde 32-year-old barmaid with 34DD tits and I get loads of attention.

I've had lots of fellas over the years and I'm game for all manner of sex.

But I recently had my first shag with two blokes – and I'm convinced that's turned me into a nympho.

Since then, I've found myself wanting more and more thrills with groups of fellas.

Last week I went with six blokes who had been at a reunion in the pub. I invited them back to my place and it wasn't long before I was stripped naked and lying on my bed.

Dribbling

I was determined to satisfy all six at the same time and I had a dick in my arse, one in my fanny and two in my mouth while I wanked the other two off.

It was fantastic watching them all explode together. I swallowed loads of cum and I could also feel spunk dribbling down my thighs.

But that's still not enough for me. This weekend I'm meeting these blokes again and two more of their mates.

Do you think my behaviour is OK, or does the fact that I'm about to have it off with eight men mean I'm abnormal?

TD, east Midlands

Tess says...

EIGHT does sound excessive, so take precautions.

Dear Tess,

WHEN I first started going out with my girlfriend, everything was great.

She's half Spanish, so is quite dark-skinned with lovely eyes.

The sex was great and before long she moved in with me.

She loved giving me a blowjob every night when I got home from work and she really liked doing it doggy style.

Everything was going fine until she had to go back home to Spain for a few months.

When she finally came back, my plums were aching for some attention.

But when I stripped her off for action, I noticed she was a little bit more hairy than usual – she'd clearly decided to forego her usual body grooming regime back in Spain.

She's now got a full-on moustache, her armpits are like a rug, her bikini line seems to stretch from her fanny to her neck, and the hair on her legs is so long she could plait it.

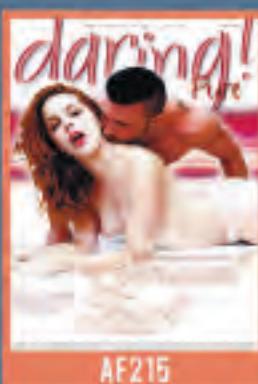

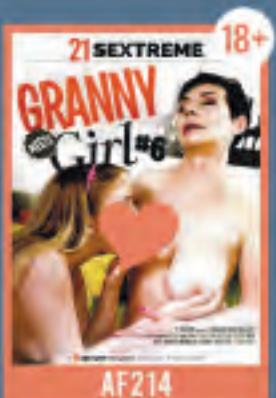

Although we were both gagging for it, I couldn't muster a hard-on looking at my Latino lover – who now looks more like Chewbacca from the Star Wars films!

How can I raise the subject with her without offending her?

CG, Kent

Tess says...

TELL her to get a shave. If she won't, it should be hair today, gonna tomorrow.

HOT 'N' HORNY

LUSTY Lauren Smethwyck has a very naughty fantasy...

The 32C cracker, from Leeds, revealed: "I LOVE the idea of being a call girl – a high class one of course!"

"Obviously, I don't want to sell my body but I do like to role play."

"It feels so naughty getting dressed up super sexy and then behaving like a whore."

"Think Julia Roberts in the film Pretty Woman – she looked so hot in her thigh-high PVC boots."

Lauren added: "Role play gives you the chance to act out a naughty side to you."

"I love meeting my boyfriend in a hotel bar and pretending that he's a client."

"I get a real kick out of people looking at us, at my slutty outfit, and wondering if I'm a prostitute."

"Then we go to the hotel room and, of course, I insist he hands me over my money first."

"Then I'm pure filth, as it's all about sex. And he must get his money's worth!"

SPORT STARTS HERE WITH RACING

BIG CHANCE:
Ralph Beckett

River too deep for her rivals

By MIKE FRANCIS

seven lengths next time out at Kempton with a rating of 102 having already gained black type when second at Goodwood to Sea Silk Road.

Even if Eternal Pearl failed to run to her rating at Newbury, the form still stands up and while she faces some promising rivals – including Frankie Dettori's sole ride on the card in Dignified – River Of Stars can take this before going on to better things.

The Seamus Mullins-trained Vin Rouge can bring up his hat-trick in the Paddy Sheehan Memorial Handicap.

Having gone 13 races without success, he won for the first time at Lingfield easily and then followed up under a 5lb penalty.

He is now 10lb higher than for the first of those wins, but is clearly in the form of his life.

Backing two-year-olds with penalties is never normally a good idea, but Ed Dunlop looks to have found a very good opportunity for Liberation Bay in the Download The At The Races App EBF Fillies' Restricted Novice Stakes.

She almost defied the penalty at Ripon when beaten just a neck and this looks a weaker race.

Kodiac Sign has hardly set the world alight in three runs for Sir Michael Stoute, but may find life easier in the Freederm Apprentice Handicap at Yarmouth.

He is far less exposed than all of his opponents and while an opening mark of 78 is hardly a gimme, the 3lb allowance Harry Davies has is very handy.

It was a frustrating weekend for Charlie Appleby given he was second in the Superlative Stakes, July Cup and two Grade Ones in America.

But Princeville can give him another winner in the Diomed EBF Maiden Stakes.

Difficult

Beaten less than a length on his debut at this track, he can show the benefit of that experience.

Quite how Noya finished out of the frame last time out is a mystery, as she was still in front with 50 yards to go.

Harry and Roger Charlton's three-year-old probably needs holding up longer, which might be difficult against just two rivals, but she sets the standard in the Ibuleve Handicap.

Grantley Hall also faces just two rivals in the Racing TV-sponsored Novice Stakes at Catterick and given how promising she looked when winning at Redcar, it will be disappointing if she fails to follow up.

Swede dreams for villa stopper

GERRARD SWOOPS FOR AUGUSTINSSON AS HE BEEFS UP HIS BACK LINE AGAIN

ASTON Villa have sealed a season-long loan deal with Sevilla for Sweden defender Ludwig Augustinsson.

Augustinsson, 28, made 27 appearances in all competitions, including the Champions League and Europa League, for LaLiga side Sevilla last season.

A Villa statement said: "Aston Villa can confirm that the club has reached an agreement with Sevilla FC for the season-long loan of Ludwig Augustinsson."

"The player has begun the process of obtaining a work permit."

Augustinsson has made 46 senior appearances for Sweden, playing the full 90 minutes in three Nations League games last month.

He has spent just one season in LaLiga after joining from Bundesliga side Werder Bremen in the summer of 2021. Villa have signed fellow Sevilla defender Diego Carlos, midfielder Boubacar Kamara and goalkeeper Robin Olsen last month, while Philippe Coutinho's loan move from Barcelona was made permanent in May.

FULHAM have signed Man United midfielder Andreas Pereira on a four-year deal.

The 26-year-old, who progressed through the Old Trafford youth system after joining from PSV Eindhoven in 2011, has joined the Cottagers for an initial £8million and a further £2m in potential add-ons.

Fulham have an option of an extra year in his contract which could tie him to Craven Cottage until 2027.

Pereira made 75 first-team appearances for United, who have loaned him out to Granada, Valencia, Lazio and Flamengo, but has left in search of more regular action.

Pereira said: "I'm very happy to be here and I can't wait to start the season with Fulham."

"I want to help Fulham as much as I can to be where they belong. Marco Silva was very important for this. I spoke a lot with him, and he was a key factor in me being here."

RANGERS have signed Hibs youngster Connor Young on a three-year deal for an undisclosed fee.

The 17-year-old will link up with David McCallum's B team ahead of their Lowland League campaign and will travel with the squad to Prague this week for the Pilsen tournament. Head of Academy Craig Mulholland is pleased with the deal: "We are delighted to welcome Connor to Rangers."

"He is a player that David Stevenson and our recruitment team have tracked for some time along with our technical staff, who have seen him have some excellent performances against our own group."

Developed

"We believe that Connor has attributes that can be developed further working under David, Brian and their multi-disciplinary staff team."

"We look forward to seeing Connor link up with the likes of Robbie Ure, who has been with the first team in Portugal and is a player who has been in the academy since he was eight years old, and Zak Lovelace, an England international who joined us from Millwall."

Bale: I'll play on for my Dragons

By WES KIRBY

GARETH Bale believes his move into Major League Soccer will help extend his Wales career to the 2024 European Championships and beyond.

Bale was unveiled by Los Angeles FC on Monday having agreed a one-year deal which will help his preparations for Wales' World Cup finals appearance in Qatar.

But Bale, who turns 33 at the end of this week, revealed he has longer-term ambitions with LA and sees no reason why he will not remain Stateside well beyond the terms of his current deal.

Bale said: "I haven't come here just to be here for six or 12 months, I've come here to try to be here as long as possible."

"I want to try to leave my mark on this team, and being here gives me the best possible chance to make it to the Euros and maybe one more. I feel like I'm here to play a big part."

Going

Bale had his first training session with his new LA team-mates this week, and could be in line to make his debut for the Western Conference leaders against Nashville.

"It was nice to get started because it's been a while and I was eager to get going," added Bale.

"I need to get some training under my belt but the players were really welcoming."

"Hopefully I can help to improve the team and we'll see – our goal is to try to win a trophy and a Championship."

Bale's unveiling came on the same day Wayne Rooney reportedly agreed a deal to become the new coach of DC United, and the Welshman said he welcomed the influx of big names into the competition.

"It's great for the MLS and for the sport in the US," Bale said.

"I think to get big names and more people watching is only going to do great things for the MLS, and it's great to be part of it."

FITZY'S GOT A LINKS JINX

THE last time Matt Fitzpatrick won a tournament at St Andrews it was witnessed by his parents and their dog.

Fourteen years later, a record crowd of 290,000 will be in attendance during the week of the 150th Open Championship as Fitzpatrick seeks back-to-back major titles following his US Open triumph last month.

"I can't really remember it," Fitzpatrick said of his victory in the 2008 St Andrews Boys' Open. "There wasn't much atmosphere. There was literally my mum, dad, and our dog watching."

"It was two rounds of stroke play, one on the Eden Course and one on the New. If you qualified then you came to play on the Old Course. I played three matches and then I played the following year as well. Since I've played St Andrews in the Dunhill Links, my record's not been so good."

The 27-year-old from Sheffield was not even in the field the last time St Andrews hosted the Open in 2015, having only turned professional 13 months earlier.

"I wouldn't say it's one of my favourite courses, but to experience it at an Open, it's amazing," Fitzpatrick added. "I didn't watch golf growing up. But it was always held in high esteem when it comes to St Andrews."

"I love the area, and I think this week, with it being the Open here and my first one, I'm definitely going to enjoy it."

Although he was leading amateur on Open debut at Muirfield in 2013, Fitzpatrick's record since turning professional is nothing to write home about, with a tie for 20th at Portrush in 2019 his best result.

"Since I turned pro, we play much less links golf. I feel I've got worse in the wind on a links course."

"It's taken time to get used to it and where to land it, how to fly it. We're not put under that test as regularly in regular events because either there's no wind or it's softer and you can fly it to a certain spot."

"I'd like to improve on my record and I feel like I've been playing much, much better since the last Open that I played. It's just trying to do more of the same this year, fix a couple things from last week and hopefully take into this week."

Different

Last week Fitzpatrick finished in a tie for sixth in the Scottish Open, overcoming being on the wrong side of the draw.

"I'll be honest, I was a little bit apprehensive about where's my game at?" the world no10 said. "Links golf is drastically different than the US Open."

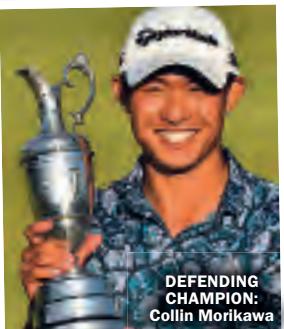

"I was pleased with the week, with the way I finished. I was kind of laughing to my friends, saying I'm just happy that I've still kind of got it a little bit."

"Last week I was on my own. I stayed onsite and I normally like my own company, but it was a bit boring. This week I'm in a house with my mum and dad, manager Ted, and the chef that had at Brookline."

"It will just be kind of the same deal of preparation and normal routines, just trying to get back to the normal routines that have been working all year, really."

JACK'S ALL RIGHT FOR DECIDER

JACK Nowell believes stopping Australia in Saturday's series decider would be a greater achievement than England's whitewash of the Wallabies six years ago.

Sydney Cricket Ground will host a winner-takes-all clash after Eddie Jones' tourists produced some of their best rugby since the 2019 World Cup to clinch a 25-17 victory in the second Test.

The scene is set to emulate one of the achievements of Jones' reign when the Wallabies were dismantled 3-0 in 2016.

Nowell featured in all three of those victories and, while on the face of it a clean sweep would appear the greater prize, the Exeter wing sees more value in England's resolve in the face of adversity.

RUGBY UNION

"If I look back to last time we were out here, winning 3-0 was special," Nowell said.

"But to come from 1-0 down – and hopefully the idea is to be 2-1 at the end of it – is hopefully something I will remember more."

England had lost four successive matches until they crept over the line in Brisbane and Nowell added:

"We have had some difficult situations.

"We let ourselves down and lost a few games and those results, when they back up, are hard to take. But they fired us up to go again."

"The thing we spoke about was that, if we lost the second Test, we lose the series."

"It was as simple as that and when you keep it that simple, it frees us up on the field."

"The first half we were dominant and then Australia came back. But where we are as a squad, we were able to handle that and fire through it, especially the forwards."

"We had a lot riding on the second Test and, if we had lost, the series was over."

"When that's in the front of your minds going into a game, it's really all or nothing."

England are about to enter all-or-nothing territory for the final time this season but their prospects have dimmed after Sam Underhill was ruled out of the Sydney showdown by concussion.

Underhill becomes the third England player and fifth including Wallabies Jordan Petaia and Allan Alaalatoa to have their series ended by a brain injury.

The Bath openside joins fellow 'Kamikaze Kid' Tom Curry and second row Maro Itoje in taking heavy blows to the head and now England's stocks at flanker are sorely depleted.

NEW JOB: Rooney

Rooney back in States as DC boss

WAYNE Rooney is set for an instant return to management after agreeing to take charge of old club DC United.

The 36-year-old left Derby last month following a tumultuous spell where his own stock improved despite chaos off the pitch at the Pride Park club.

Rooney has wasted no time being out of the game with a move back to America.

England's record goalscorer spent a year-and-a-half playing for the Washington-based club, scoring 25 times and helping DC earn a place in the 2019 play-offs.

A switch to Derby came at the beginning of 2020 with Rooney able to balance playing alongside coaching at the Championship outfit. He took over as caretaker following Phillip Cocu's dismissal in November of that year and was officially appointed as manager the following January.

The Man United great would experience a rollercoaster 18 months in the hotseat with Derby plunged into administration at the start of last season.

Given a 21-point deduction, relegation appeared a formality but Rooney was able to harness an incredible turnaround of fortunes despite a lack of finances to see the Rams' fight for survival go into the penultimate month of the season.

Derby were eventually consigned to League One on April 18 and yet it was events two months later that saw their highly-regarded manager move on.

Rooney announced his resignation on June 24 with the club's takeover still not complete, saying: "I feel the club now needs to be led by someone with fresh energy and not affected by the events that have happened over the last 18 months."

Instead of remaining in England to continue his managerial journey, the Three Lions 53-goal hitman will return to the United States.

He will take over a DC United side who have been without a head coach since the dismissal of Hernan Losada in April.

They lost 7-0 to Philadelphia on Friday and are struggling.

England manager tries to keep a lid on expectations after record victory

ENGLAND manager Sarina Wiegman has warned her players they have won nothing yet after their record-breaking 8-0 hammering of Norway in the Euros.

The tournament hosts scored six times in a rampant first-half display, with Georgia Stanway's 12th-minute penalty and a finish from Lauren Hemp three minutes later being followed by a brace from Ellen White and Beth Mead.

That equalled the most amount of goals scored by one team in a Women's Euros match, and England went on to register the competition's biggest ever victory, surpassing their 6-0 win over Scotland in 2017, following a 66th-minute effort from substitute Alessia Russo and Mead completing her hat-trick late on.

Asked to describe her side's display, Wiegman said: "Just a great performance."

"We kept just playing the game, also in the second half, and sometimes when you are 6-0 up players try to do different things, but we didn't – we kept playing together and doing our task."

"An incredible evening, very nice – but stay grounded, because we don't have anything yet."

With the remarkable win in front of a crowd of 28,847 – from which cries of "football's coming home" rang out at various stages – seeing them seal top spot in Group A, the Lionesses will be returning to Brighton a week today to play a quarter-final against the runners-up in Group B, which features Germany and Spain.

Their group fixtures conclude with Friday's meeting at St Mary's with now-eliminated Northern Ireland, who had lost 2-0 to Austria earlier on Monday.

England had opened their campaign with last Wednesday's 1-0 win over Austria at Old Trafford, with a competition-record attendance of just under 69,000.

And when it was put to Wiegman that if people did not know there was a Women's Euros on, they did now, she said: "I don't know, I think they already knew last Wednesday, because that was nice too."

"I just hope they enjoy, and that is what we hope to do – make the nation proud."

"We've had two games now, we're trying to play our best game, and today we did. But it's just three points – if you win 1-0 or 8-0, it doesn't make a difference – we didn't win anything yet."

While Norway boss Martin Sjogren had said pre-match that his team were "definitely" underdogs heading into the game, how things played out was some shock to the system for the side ranked three places below England at 11th in the world, who were 4-1 victors over Northern Ireland in their opener at St Mary's last Thursday.

Sjogren said when asked for his feelings post-match: "It's not easy to put into words."

Horrible

"I really, really feel terrible for the players' sake, to be out there and to be beaten by England 8-0 in a game we had been looking forward to for quite some time."

"We had a good feeling before the game, we thought we had a good plan, and I thought we played well the first 10 minutes, but then after that, the last 80 minutes was more or less horrible to be honest."

Arsenal manager Jonas Eidevall hailed Beth Mead's performance as the best by a wide player at Euro 2022 after her hat-trick against Norway helped England secure a quarter-final spot.

Eidevall, who manages Mead at club level, was full of praise.

"England played them to pieces," he said. "I'm astonished that Norway didn't change anything."

"Don't take anything away from Beth Mead. It's the best performance of a wide player at this tournament, and there have been plenty."

Relentlessness

"I can feel the potential of this England team. They're putting on a show that I haven't seen. We've got such good players and they have not had a chance. Everything has been magnificent."

"It was as good as it gets. What you have to give England credit for is the relentlessness in their press. Every single player stuck to their job for the whole time."

"England have just dismantled a very, very good footballing nation in Norway. They never gave them any opportunity to play."

"I hope wide forwards are watching this on TV, this is what you need to do to score goals."

"England looked two or three levels above Norway. I expected an even game, but it was very impressive from England."

"It's against Norway who were coming here to be medal contestants. Norway weren't even on the pitch today. England had so much time and space and what England did that space was amazing."

Alessia Russo and Mead went on to complete the scoring in the second appearances for City and won two league titles, the Carabao Cup on two occasions and the Community Shield during a trophy-laden spell at the Etihad Stadium.

"Joining City in 2019 is the best decision I have made in my career," he said. "I have loved every second. The fans have been amazing, I feel supported by the club and the manager pushes me every single day.

"I have improved so much as a player and I want to thank Pep and all the backroom staff.

"They are committed to helping me become the best player I can be and I appreciate their hard work. "We have been very successful since I came here, which is something that makes me very proud. But to be honest, that success has made me even more hungry for me. Once you start winning big titles, you don't want to stop.

"City, I feel, offers me the best chance of winning trophies and that's why I am so pleased to be staying here for longer."
